Welcome Message

On behalf of the clinical oncology department Menoufia University, I am delegated to invite you to attend the second annual international conference that will be held on the 6th and the 7th of September, 2018.

The main theme of the conference is the management of cancer patients in developing countries.

Then we will spot on the new trends and updates including its high cost. The message behind the conference is how to overcome this gap.

Through the different sessions of the conference we will cover the most common malignancies.

I hope you will enjoy the scientific content of the conference.
Awaiting for you all

Prof . Nasser Abdelbary

Professor and head of clinical oncology department
